Voters of Nevada and Washington recently approved tax limitation, while those of Georgia, Colorado and Oregon rejected it. Thus there remains confusion with respect to the popularity of this device for the attainment of economical government. Even the experts disagree. One group maintains the only way to curb the political spenders is to fix definite limits on the amount of levies assessable. Another group insists such a course only induces budgetary buck-passing without any real relief for the taxpayer.

The answer probably is that, with or without tax limitation, everything finally depends upon the integrity and public-spiritedness of the responsible officeholders. When wanton partisanship is at the helm, genuine economy cannot be had under any system.—

There will probably be violent disagreement with the opinion of Dr. Joseph B. De Lee that most women would be wiser and safer to have their babies born at home, though he is a world-famous obstetrician and should know whereof he speaks. The average hospitals, he says, is not able to isolate its maternity wards from dangers of contagion, and there is too great a tendency "to interfere too much with normal processes." He believes, in a word, the best place to be born, is at home, which is not the fashionable opinion today.

The editor of this newspaper having never been a doctor or a mother does not know, but he has a peculiar notion the advantage of being born at home, not much considered in the modern world, is that the earliest days of a child's life deserve to be surrounded by the intimate affection and concern of motherhood, which is considered out of place and old-fashioned in a hospital. Many mothers have sacrificed much to surround themselves with expert care and equipment, for safety's sake, in the maternity ward of a hospital. Many of them will be surprised to hear from high authority that they would be safer at home.—

It does seem that, simply out of considerations of mercy, the State of Florida should have refrained from twisting the knife in the wound. The Grand Old Party, the party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley, has had a hard time of it lately and, in fact, its cup of sorrow has been overflowing. Then along comes Florida with its final merciless turn of the screw. Because it failed to receive 30 per cent of the vote in the last election, the Republican Party is barred from placing any candidates on the ballot in the 1938 election. It is no longer a recognized party in Florida. It has been relegated to a class that is made up of the political rag-tag, that heterogenous mass that is representative of the innumerable "isms" thrown to the surface during turbulent times.

So far as Florida is concerned, the Republican Party is one with the Communist, the Prohibitionist, Socialist, Farmer-Labor, National Labor, Single Tax and Union Party. It is a sad fate, one to make the angels weep, at least those in Vermont and Maine.—

A toymaker in an eastern city says he'd like to start a Santa Claus school to train men for playing the role in church and civic functions. He is moved to this sentimental step by the Santas he sees on street corners and in department stores. They simply don't "measure up to childhood expectations," he says. Isn't it possible childhood expectations have changed a good deal of late? There are so many Santas visible in every community every year. They come weeks ahead of time, instead of waiting for Christmas eve. And many of them lack the inspiration to be really good in the part, even with training.

NO BLAME FOR TRAGEDY HAS YET BEEN SET

Cremation Of Infant In Irmulco Fire Is Investigated

A MEXICAN IS A HERO

Alien Badly Burned In Trying To Rescue The Baby

An investigation of the fire at Irmulco develops the fact nothing can be learned that shows the exact cause of the tragedy. That there is an element of carelessness attached to the situation is the belief that prevails, it is true, but real responsibility cannot be attached to anyone connected with the unfortunate affair.

Started In Early Hours.

The fire was of undetermined origin and started Tuesday morning about four o'clock and completely destroyed the six-room house at Irmulco in which Mr. and Mrs. Jamas Mahan and their four children made their home. An infant daughter, two and one-half months of age, was burned to death as she slept. The other three children, James Jr., 13, William, 6, and Larry, 18 months, ran through the flames to safety.

A Gallant Mexican.

A Mexican identified as Jose Ahuayo, reportedly employed by the California Western railroad as a section laborer, fought the flames in an effort to reach the infant girl, but was unsuccessful and himself was badly burned; receiving first degree burns on the face and arms. He was taken to the Redwood Coast hospital for treatment.

Father Was Away.

Mr. Mahan was away from home on a painting job at Willits. He was notified of the tragedy and went over for his family- taking them to Willits. The coroner's office took charge of the remains of the infant.

Who Mother Is.

Mrs. Mahan is a daughter of J. L. Robertson, who formerly owned the ranch at Irmulco, but recently sold the property to S. W. Jones. The Mahan family had been living there during the time Mrs. Mahan's parents occupied the place and after they left continued to stay on as it was said Mr. Mahan had not been

LOCAL STORE IS PURCHASED

Independent Owner Of Chain Stores Enters Ukiah Field

MARKET IS SOLD

Sale of the Paramount Market by J. F. Snodgrass was completed last week to W. F. Rood, of Lakeport, and the latter has assumed charge. It is understood Mr. and Mrs. Snodgrass will return to their home in Petaluma.

Of the new owner of the local business house The Lakeport Bee has the following to say: Will F. Rood, operator and owner of a chain of independent grocery stores and markets in Lake county, will open his sixth store next Monday which will be located in Ukiah. This will be his second store in Mendocino county, the other being located at Hopland.

To Enlarge It.

Mr. Rood has purchased the Snodgrass Paramount Store which for the past several years has been operating in Ukiah. The new owner plans to remodel the premises into what he terms a super market and will carry an extensive line of groceries as well as featuring a large stock of fruits and vegetables, as he does in his Lake county markets.

Where They Are.

The Rood stores are now operating in Lakeport, Finley, Middletown, Upper Lake and Hopland and the new Ukiah market will be the sixth in the group, as stated.

To Be In Charge.

E. M. Banks, popular manager of the Hopland store, will have charge of the new Ukiah market, according to a statement of Mr. Rood.

FEED THE BIRDS

These are hard days on birds and scraps and feed should be placed in the yards of the homes of Ukiah where birds may get crumbs and such feed as they will eat. Do not forget the birds during the cold weather. It is very difficult for them to obtain food.

VICIOUS SLAP AT GAME LAW BY SMART ALEC

Doe That Had Place For Years Slaughtered Lately

HEAD, HIDE WAS HUNG

Unusual Instance Of Disregard Of Game Law Flaunted

The ordinary person takes all too lightly the fight some newspapers and real sportsmen are making in trying to prevent the extermination of fish and game in northern California.

Goes Right Along.

All through the season there is carried on a ruthless killing of deer in both Mendocino and Lake counties and, regardless of what is said to the contrary, only one end can be the result of this lawlessnss. Here is a situation reported from Lake county that cannot help but awaken resentment in the minds of game protectors: In a small draw just east of Clearlake Highlands, and within a stone's throw of a number of residences, the head and hide of a recently-slain doe is hanging conspicuously on a tree limb (at least it was so hanging several days ago). This marks one of a number of flagrant violations of the deer protective law by venison bootleggers.

The Deer Victim.

For several seasons a does is known to have headquartered in the coulee where the hide and head were left, and each spring she has given birth to twin fawns. It is presumed this is the victim of the law-breaking hunter.

What Conclusion Is.

The fact the hide was flaunted indicates the kill was not made by a "professional" market hunter nor by any person shooting for the sole purpose of sustenance. These people, the former a careful law-violator and the latter in a certain measure excusable, take every precaution to conceal their misdeed. This slaughter of a doe was the work of a "smart alec," obviously. He is believed to have been a local resident anxious to show his defiance of law and every conservation enactment. It is probably what he considers "the perfect crime."

Fines Too Light.

When a game law violator is taken before a justice of the peace hereafter that official should see to it a fine that has teeth in it is imposed.

Is Our Asset.

The best attraction Mendocino county has is its game, coupled with the beauty of the hills and valleys. If deer and fish are properly protected, when the northern California highways have been brought to what is now being striven for ,this will annually be the mecca for thousands of vacationists and sportsmen, but, if we are not careful there will be nothing, outside the scenery, to draw them here.

Safeway Manager On Traffic Force

Notice came yesterday Robert V. Johnson, for several years the competent and obliging manager of The Safeway Store here, had been appointed a member of the State Traffic Force and that Mr. Johnson was to assume his duties early in January. While Mr. Johnson's departure will be a loss to business circles, he will make an excellent traffic officer, having discretion, plenty of nerve, being a crack pistol shot and a tireless worker. Just where Mr. Johnson will be sent is not known.

FINAL STAGES OF BIG SPAN WORK IS NEAR

Steel Crews Dismantling Derricks As Pavers Move In

CABLE WRAPPING ON

Electricians To Begin Conduit Installation Today

By STUART B. DUNBAR

Erection of the suspended structure steel of the Golden Gate Bridge was to be completed today with the exception of approximately 200 feet of hand railing at the center of the main span. This was the highlight of the weekly progress report of Chief Engineer Joseph B. Strauss, on file for the board of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District. The small section of hand railing can not be erected until after completion of the cable wrapping, now under way, and removal of the cable foot walks.

Big Derricks' Use Over.

Already the traveler derricks used in erection of the side span steel have been moved out from the pylons to the towers and that on the Marin side dismantled by the Bethlehem Steel Company. The side span traveler on the San Francisco side was being dismantled today, while dismantling the main span travelers will commence Tuesday. The Bethlehem Steel Company has commenced erection of the steel concreting tower, to be used for conveying paving material from the pier to the bridge deck level.

To Lay Rails Now.

It is anticipated the work of laying rails for the concrete dump cars, to be used during paving operations, will be commenced this week.

Riveting Almost Done.

Meanwhile riveting crews are completing their work on the main span steel with paint gangs following close behind them. This work has been expedited as the result of the unusually favorable weather conditions, according to officials of the Bethelehem Steel Company.

Are Wrapping Cables.

Cable wrapping operations were commenced last week by the John A. Roeblings Sons Company, with four wrapping machines working on the west cable. Already 150 feet of cable has been wrapped on the Marin side and approximately the same footage at the span center, where two machines are in operation. On the San Francisco side the wrapping is just getting under way. Additional wrapping machines are expected to be set up on the east cable this week and the work will be pushed forward with all possible dispatch.

Completing Big Arch.

Vertical bracing on the big arch over Fort Winfield Scott on the San Francisco side has been completed and a traveler derrick has been set up and is erecting the vertical stringers and floor steel.

Paving Well Along.

The high viaduct of the east approach road through the Presidio is virtually completed, as is the Lincoln Boulevard underpass, while paving of the center strip of highway from the west abutment of the high viaduct to the underpass was completed last week. Grading of the roadway between the high and low viaducts also is well on towards completion. On the south approach span the center lane of the pavement has been completed from the abutment to pylon S2 and forms and reinforcing steel are being placed for the east lane. Concreting of the anchorage housings on both sides of the Golden Gate is being continued, together with the east pylon on the Marin side.

Conduits Are In.

With all this work under way or completed, the Alta Electrical Company has commenced the installation of conduits for electric wiring for the navigation signals and cable outline wiring.

All Materials Shipped.

Virtually all materials for the bridge have been shipped from the eastern fabricating plants and last week the staff of the eastern inspection office maintained in New York by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District was reduced to two men.

Saw the Span.

Last Friday delegates to the convention in San Francisco of the American Association of State Highway Officials viewed the brdige as the guests of the district, being taken through the Presidio by automobile. Total employment on all units of the bridge this week was 1360, this figure including approximately 400 WPA workers on the Sausalito lateral and other WPA projects in connection with the bridge.

STRANGE CASE OF ATHLETIC BOY PUZZLING

Bruise Brings About Unusual Situation At Upper Lake

CAUSE IS A MYSTERY

Young Man Confronted With Probable Loss Of Limb

The penalty one runs in failing to watch carefully any bruise sustained on the body is illustrated by the plight of a man in Lake county which is attracting wide attention because of the popularity of the victim and the unusual features attached to the sickness. Mentioning the misfortune of the victim, The Clear Lake Observer goes on to say: "Brought home from Santa Rosa Junior College Friday, Tom Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lilburn Parker, was removed to Upper Lake Community Hospital Monday in a serious condition as the result of a strange hip affliction. He was operated on by Dr. L. J. Calahan, who placed several drains in the affected area, in an effort to draw out poisons and reduce a high temperature.

Cause A Mystery.

"The young man had, in some way unknown to himself, bruised his hip, an abscess resulting. Ten days ago he came home for the weekend but made no comment on his condition. On his return he was taken ill and a physician summoned. By Thursday he was in such a state his mother went to Santa Rosa and brought him back. Dr. Calahan opened up the afflicted hip and installed four drains Friday. His condition, however, grew worse and early Monday he was hurried to the hospital for further surgical treatment."

End Not Yet.

So serious is the situation of the youth, who is an athlete, loss of his leg is one of the ugly fears entertained.

LITTLE GIRL ENDANGERED

Nina Rash, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Rash, was badly bruised and lacerated when she was run over by an automobile driven by a Laytonville Indian Saturday afternoon.

CHINA CLIPPER PLANES INTEND TO USE LAKE IN EMERGENCIES

Recent Fog Compels Company To Secure Haven

Once in a while the roar of the engines of the China Clipper will be heard in the heavens above Ukiah as it seeks a haven in nearby Clear Lake during the storms which bring fogs that make dangerous landing of the oversea carrier on the landing field on the Bay. News to this end is contained in reports sent out last week stating by reason of a survey just completed Clearlake Park water front will be the emergency landing site for Pan-American Clipper ships traveling between San Francisco Bay and the Orient. The Lakeport water front had been designated as the place for possible landings in times of storm or excessive fogs. A storage supply of special gasolines and oils has been shipped to Clear Lake for warehousing, and the Log Tavern Hotel will be headquarters for pilots and passengers. Selection of the location comes about through the new location possessing greater depth of water; better wind protection; shorter distance to the bay district; better housing and restaurant conditions; quicker availability of a special Greyhound bus for passenger use. Two weeks ago a Clipper ship just in from Hawaii, cruised over the San Francisco bay more than two hours waiting for a break in the fog. At that time word was sent the ship might have to go to Clear Lake.

Looked Lake Over.

Following the two-weeks-ago interruption of landing a survey of Clear Lake was made and it has since been approved as an emergency landing. In the meantime a warning has been sent Lake county people who operate boats on Clear Lake, saying: "When a ship arrives, and undoubtedly this will occur now and again, all small boats must stay at shore. It will be extremely hazardous if boats put out into the water. Clipper ships land at more than traveling speed, setting the engines up to their limit. They must have the full right-of-way."

Would Go To Lake.

Had any of the Clipper ships come to port within the last several days they would have been at once routed for Clear Lake, because during those days there has been no break whatever in the fog ceiling. This condition will undoubtedly occur now and again. When a ship lands and no change in bay weather occurs, the passengers will be sent out within a few hours by special bus. The crew will remain until the fog moves. The company has completed all arrangements with The Log Tavern management for berthing, for boat service, for rooms and meals at times of emergency, a company statement says.

BIG JUDGMENT WAS AWARDED

Coasters Lose A Suit For Damages Arising From Wreck

Death of Mrs. Thelma Gertrude Magner, San Francisco hair-dresser, in an automobile-truck collision on the Redwood highway near Lytton, in September, 1935, last week brought judgment aggregating $13,250 to her surviving husband, Joseph A. Magner, and daughter, Mrs. Florence E. Kaye, at conclusion of a damage trial which had been in progress for a week before Judge Benjamin Jones of Lakeport.

Long Deliberated.

The jury of seven women and four men deliberated five hours and 25 minutes over the evidence submitted.

Who Involved Were.

Defendants in the action were the Coast Line Stages, Joseph Olinsky, of Fort Bragg, executive of the Stage Company, and William Simpson, driver of a truck which figured in the fatal accident.

Division of Awards.

By their verdict, the jurors gave Mr. Magner and Mrs. Kaye judgment for $10,000 for the death of Mrs. Magner, driver of the car that collided with the truck, and gave Mr. Magner personal injury balm of $3,250.

LITTLE BOY SICK

James Downing, of Laytonville, drove Mrs. Emily Houx and small son, Bobbie, here so the latter, who has pneumonia might be taken care of at the hospital.

SUGAR PLANT STORY FOUND WITH BACKING

Large Acreage In Co. Of Lake Is To Be Developed

FACTORY IS POSSIBLE

Application For Water Permit May Be A Forerunner

Rumors have been coming here some time concerning the probable erection of a sugar factory in this part of the state. The most definite news about the advent of a plant of this nature is the following, taken from The Clear Lake Observer: "The development of a huge sugar beet ranch and the possible establishment of a sugar refinery in Lake county is foreseen in the filing of an application Friday with the state division of water for right to take 185,700 acre feet from the north fork of Cache creek by the Indian Valley Mutual Water Company. The petition was filed in San Francisco and sets forth 60,000 acres are to be placed under irrigation and cultivation.

What It Is.

"This big land holding in Indian Valley (which lies northwest of Long Valley in Lake county) was long owned by P. T. Lockanour, of Lucerne, where his sister, Mrs. Allene Quigley, is manager of Cottage City. Several years ago he interested one of the Stevens brothers, a Woodland banker, in the project, and last year plans were mapped out for the raising of beets. No action was taken, however, at the time. Now, with the filing of a petition for the use of water, it is believed, the sponsors are prepared to put the land under cultivation. The refinery was part of the original plan."

Access To Acreage.

A full statement on the project is expected to be made when the state division of water permits daming of Cache creek fork and diversion of water for farming purposes. Indian Valley can be entered by way of Wilbur Springs road, which has led to another conjecture the developers of the immense acreage may plan to ship beets to the new Spreckles sugar refinery now under construction at Woodland. Another road into Indian Valley leads from the Oaks by way of High Valley.

THIRTEEN WAS LUCKY NUMBER

Celebrating their wedding anniversary Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ivy recalled that they were married 27 years ago at Council Bluffs, Iowa, and though they were married December 13, when the thermometer read 13 degrees below zero, 13 inches of snow was on the ground, and on June 13 of the following year they moved to Bethany, a suburb of Lincoln, where they paid $13 rent and remained 13 months, if there is anything in lucky numbers, 13 stands for happiness to them.

Excellent Start Is Made At Meeting

County Clerk Harry M. Burke was at San Francisco Tuesday where he went as a member of a committee appointed by Mayor Angelo J. Rossi to take charge of plans for the celebration which will be held at the time the Golden Gate bridge is opened next year. Mr. Burke states there were about 125 prominent men from northern California in attendance and that excellent preliminary work was done. On all sides there was an approving sentiment expressed over what The Redwood Empire Association had been able to accomplish for this district and a distinct disinclination to do anything that would in any manner hamper the plans of the Association.

H. B. Muir, Willits capitalist, was here Tuesday from his northern home.

"LEFTY" LEFT HIS DIAMOND RING IN RUSH

Narrow Escape Of A Fish Truck Driver Reported

BIG MACHINE BURNED

Back-Firing Caused Disaster Near The Mountain House

(Fort Bragg Advocote)

"Lefty" Sturiali is alive and kicking—and he is mighty lucky that can be said about him.

Truck On Fire.

He left San Francisco Saturday morning with a truckload of empty fish boxes for the Noyo packing house of the Western California Fish Company and everything was fine until he started descending the hill near the Mountain House. He noticed the engine backfired a couple of times but thought nothing of it. The next instant the cab was a mass of flames and Mr. Sturiali steered for the ditch and jumped. He was burned, but not badly.

Lost $300 Diamond.

The truck was burned and the load destroyed. "Lefty" had a suit case on the truck containing his clothes and a $300 diamond ring was in one of his suit pockets. The suitcase was totally destroyed by flames, as well as his clothes, and at this writing he has not been able to recover the ring. He had just purchased a radio while in the city, and it, too, was destroyed by the fire.

DOG RAIDING ON THE COAST

Sheep Flocks Suffer; New Ordinance To Help Somewhat

(Mendocino Beacon)

Phil Smith, recent purchaser of part of the Howard Bishop ranch at Ten Mile, Thursday had one of those unpleasant experiences that sooner or later come to most sheepmen. When he went out to the pasture Thursday morning he found four dogs doing their work of destruction among his flock. Grabbing a shotgun he scared them off but did not manage to kill any of them.

What Destruction Was.

Covering a portion of the range that day he found 10 dead or dying and three crippled sheep. He is still quite a number of sheep short in his count, so it would seem he has not found all his killed and maimed sheep. The dogs evidently had begun work in the evening and continued throughout the night.

Same Elsewhere.

A report from the south coast at Iversen Landing is to the effect dogs have killed a number of sheep there the past few days.

Some Relief Coming.

The new dog ordinance goes into effect the first of the year, after which date owners of dogs must pay a yearly license fee of $1 and dogs must be tied up or otherwise confined at night. Out of the license money collected sheep owners will be reimbursed to a certain extent for their losses.

Owners Are Liable.

In recent court decisions owners of dogs have been held for damages to flocks, and in one instance the amount ran to some $400.

TRUCK WRECKED DRIVER JUMPED

Early Friday morning a truck with a load of grape stakes rolled over the grade while coming down Oilwell hill. It is said the load was top heavy and started swaying when the truck rolled around the sharp curves. The driver jumped as the truck and load turned over. The truck belonged to Gerber Bros. of Fresno.

Who Is This Woman?

"A fool there was and he made his prayer"—

EDWARD VIII OF ENGLAND will not see the woman for whom he renounced his throne until at least after Christmas, it was given out at the Herman L. Rogers villa in Cannes as word was flashed from London the king had taken his irrevocable step of abdication. Mr. Rogers stated emphatically Edward would not come to Cannes or any other place on the Riviera.

The American woman for whom Edward VIII gave up his throne is a woman whose charm depends mainly on an unusual and appealing personality rather than on striking beauty of face and figure. Intimates of Mrs. Simpson invariably emphasize her gracious manner and ready wit, her complete naturalness.

She is about five feet four inches tall. Her slender figure, however, gives an impression of greater height. Her high cheekbones, admired by artists, make her face distinctive and give it a slightly Oriental appearance, emphasized sometimes by Mrs. Simpson herself in Chinese costumes which she wears. Her eyes are blue, her hair a rich brown, parted in the center in a now familiar style and drawn back in soft waves on either side. It is coiled in two waves at the back of her neck, crossing each other. Occasionally she wears a single diamond in it.

Her forehead is broad and her skin a pale tan. Mrs. Simpson's teeth, regular and very white, are as characteristic a part of her beauty as the flashing smile with which she displayes them. Her mouth is generous. Mrs. Simpson has small and graceful feet and ankles and one of her few personal extravagances is in buying many pairs of shoes at a time. Her voice is low-pitched with a distinct American accent. Her fingernails are stained a pale pink.

Parisian dressmakers who design her gowns —and she is known as one of the best dressed women in the world—go into ecstacies over her figure which is shapely, setting off the simple dresses and tailored sports clothes which she likes to wear.

It was at a royal reception Wallis Warfield Spencer Simpson met the Prince of Wales. Mrs. Simpson moved forward with other women being presented. She bowed low before the chair in which King George was seated. Behind it stood the Prince of Wales, Edward. He saw the American girl and was instantly attracted. And when Wally Simpson returned home that night it was in a car owned by the Prince of Wales and personally accompanied by Edward himself.

She was then 35. Her marriage in 1916 to Lieutenant Earl Winfield Spencer had ended in divorce in 1927 when she charged Mr. Spencer had deserted her five years before. Following her first divorce she met Ernest Simpson and sailed for England to become his bride in 1928.

Last October 13, Wallis Simpson was invited to Sandringham Palace with a "few intimate friends" of the king. The next day, she filed a divorce suit at Ipswich. Antagonism began to develop in England and the Church of England, through its Archbishops of Canterbury and York, declined to accept a royal invitation which included Mrs. Simpson.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin remonstrated with Edward and was told to mind his own business. American papers began playing up the story while it was suppressed in British newspapers. October 21, Edward gave Wallis Simpson a $125,000 emerald necklace, a splendid limousine like his own and assigned his own private bodyguard to her. It was disclosed he sent her $25 worth of flowers daily. October 27, Wallis Simpson was granted her divorce in 20 minutes, a divorce which cannot be made final until next April, when she will be able to become the wife of England's ex-king.

Women and Jobs

IT WAS ONLY RECENTLY the writer, who is connected with a public organization employing many office women, voted against giving employment to a married woman or a married man, if either the wife or husband was employed. He did this because, just a short time before the question came up, he observed a married woman employed by the offices with which he is connected, come to work in a Cadillac car. At the time, the woman's husband was drawing a salary of $300 a month with the government. The writer held the conviction, and still does, that married women should be supported by their husbands and not sent out to take jobs from women who, through necessity, have to work and have no one to support them. For this stand he has been criticized, but what's the difference?

Along the line of women and jobs a southern newspaper comments: "During the last 30 years this writer has seen just about the entire cycle of replacement in labor, not only as to the curtailment of manual labor by machine, but the substitution of women for men. Those of us past 50 can remember when we first saw women behind drygoods counters, a place held staunchly by men until about 1895 or thereabouts. Lawyers and business men employed young men as shorthand reporters and office clerks, for the most part, in those days, and these men were able to maintain families in a modest way while training them for a business of their own. This writer does not know of a man working as a stenographer in any business office today, although doubtless there are a few. There is no mystery concerning the young man on the street today, out of a job. The chances of his getting a job of any kind have been dropping rapidly in the last quarter of a century. To be born a manchild carries with it definite penalties these days."

Large Herds Of Cattle Are Fed

(The Willits News)

Dr. T. B. Ricks, manager of the Eden Valley Ranch, was in town yesterday and states they are now feeding 500 head of cattle on that ranch. Most of this can be called supplemental feeding for the riders carry out oilcake on the range and between this and the old grass and browse, the animals manage to keep alive.

Supervisor-elect C. J. Pesula was here from Fort Bragg the first of the week.

Coast Woman Was Awarded Damages

Awarded $2500 as general damages, Mrs. Anna Hyman of Fort Bragg was given judgment in the total sum of $3503 against the Fort Bragg Co-operative Mercantile Corporation last week for injuries which she charges were received in the store of defendant when she slipped and fell some time ago.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, who is a director of the State Board of Prisons of California.

THE WRATH OF A WOMAN

He had been at liberty as an escape for 11 years, 11 months and two days.

He bore a hostility for policemen. He engaged in a gun battle with two officers in Connecticut. Here on the coast, at point of a pistol, he disarmed a policemen, handcuffed him to a lamppost and pinned the officer's star to the seat of his pants.

He always took long chances and, be it luck, or good scheming, he, for years, carried out his escape and evasion of the officers all over the country.

His downfall came about, not through any clever work on the part of the police or any mistep made by the fugitive.

He was the innocent victim of a human frailty that is as old as the hills of Jerusalem.

In the board room he "opened up" and related his story with a most unusual frankness. He made but one reservation — He would say nothing about aid given him by a confederate.

Almost 12 years ago he was serving a term at San Quentin and this is how he told us he got away from that prison: Among the inmates he managed to get some "con" money. He provided himself a rope. He beat the check-in and got over the wall. Between San Quentin and San Rafael he waded through the marsh and took numerous risks of being drowned in the swamp in the darkness. Arriving at San Rafael he rode the rods on an electric train, despite the fact he knew there was a deadly third rail which, if touched, would have electrocuted him. As the electric train slowed down at Sausalito, he jumped off and sneaked under the wharf. He remained beneath the dock where the ferryboats land until the last boat was leaving. He swam out, intending to get a hold near the propellor, informing us he knew, if he were struck by a propellor blade, he would be killed.

By one of those peculiar breaks that sometimes arise, the escape found a rope hanging over the side of the boat. He caught this and, keeping his head just above water, was towed to the San Francisco dock. There he encountered difficulty. He investigated three or four piles and found them all so slippery he could not climb them. At last he came to a pile on which some boards had been nailed to make a ladder. After that it was easy. With the "con" money he had gotten inside the fugitive bought some overalls, jumped a freight and went to Los Angeles. From there he went to Chicago, met his wife and went straight.

At no time did he do anything that would cause him to be compromised in any way but, entirely unbeknown to the ex-convict, his undoing was approaching him. All the death-facings he had gone through then went for naught — the chance of being shot as he got over the prison wall; the possibility of being electrocuted by the electric train third rail; the certainty of death from a smash of the propellor blade as he was rushed through the waters of the Bay between Sausalito and San Francisco were human situations which might have been circumvented, and were, but a more deadly, sinister agency—and of which he was entirely unconscious—than any or all of these arose for him to contend with and he could not escape it—

The "in-law" problem had bobbed up and he was doomed.

The success of the strong will of a desperate man who had coolly perfected his escape was brought tumbling down upon him by the weakness of a woman in the heat of passion.

Two sisters-in-law quarreled. The wife of the brother of his wife and the escape's wife disagreed over some trivial family controversy and, in a paroxysm of anger,

The sister-in-law turned him in to the officers.

MANY COVELO PEOPLE SICK

Unusual Large Number Of Round Valleyites In Hospital

(Special Correspondence of The Press)

COVELO, Dec. 14.—Our bride of a week, Mrs. Charlie English, dashed home for a short visit Sunday at Hotel Covelo.

All Doing Well.

News from our various homefolks at Howard Memorial Hospital, Willits, is as follows: Mrs. J. D. Rohrbough continues to improve. Her mother, Mrs. Jake Short, has been having trouble with an infected heel and is also there for treatment. Mrs. Lawrence Sweeney went down several days ago for surgical treatment. Mrs. W. W. Duncan, of Dos Rios, is recovering from a severe attack of bronchial pneumonia.

May Return Christmas.

Isabelle Spurlock is visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank Spurlock, at the Hospital, San Francisco. Mrs. Spurlock is so much improved she hopes to pass Christmas with the family.

Erecting Cottage.

Enoch Thomson is building another new cottage on his home lot.

Talks to Farmers.

There will be a meeting at the Auditorium Friday of this week under auspices of the Farm Bureau. Von T. Ellsworth, chief of tax research department of State Farm Bureau Federation, will speak on taxation and matters vital to the farmers' interests. Everybody welcome.

Aged Lady Injured.

Mrs. Eva Cummins, pioneer of Round Valley, fell and broke her hip recently. Mrs. Cummins is 88 years of age and her friends dread the shock to her system. Her daughter, Mrs. Ray Dunlap, is with her at present.

Is Coming Home.

Mrs. Laura Russell, who has been receiving treatment in Santa Rosa for a recent fall, is expected here shortly for a visit.

Dry Spell Continues.

No rain as yet and how we need it!

A School Affair.

The high school sophomore class gave a box social Friday night which was well attended and netted a neat sum for the class.

Bird Prices Higher.

Do your Christmas shopping early—Christmas trees are being brought in and turkey buyers are in town. Prices on Saturday were 23 and 24 cents for hens and slightly less for gobblers.

A Delightful Feast.

Speaking of turkeys Rollie Hurt gave a turkey dinner Sunday to some of his relatives—not all of them, or even the 30-pounder he had would have not sufficied—this dinner was a sort of a preview of what Christmas dinner would be. There were 19 guests—20 counting Junior, and they ate at long tables spread out of doors in the sunshine on the 13th of December and were comfortable right up to the last course, which is a pretty good ad for Round Valley weather. Artie and Donald Winters sat at one end of the table and Mary Lou and Joanne Hurt at the other end, as busy and well behaved little folks as one often sees while the grandparents, Tod Hurt and Charlie Lovell and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Winters, scattered about to keep the grownups in order while Tiny Linda Hurt waved a drumstock too big for her chubby hands. Besides the turkey and the fixin's, there were biscuits made by Charlie Lovell and a pink cake with chocolate icing made by Mrs. Walter Winters. Tod Hurt carved the turkey in a white apron trimmed in pink and Rollie Hurt, the host, wore a tiny bibbed affair while he poured coffee and passed everything. There was a whipped cream sponge cake and candied sweet potatoes and piccalilli, which renewed a sated appetite, so that you got your second wind and started in all over again on cranberry sauce, etc.

Caught Them Napping.

But there was a catch in all this. Rollie had some grain to sack and haul to the store, so the men guests adjourned to the granary and made short work of what would otherwise have been a tiresome task, while the ladies helped dress dolls for Mrs. Murphey.

Had a Good Time.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Albert Winters and son, Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hurt and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winters and children, Tod Hurt, Charlie Lovell, Clara Jean Lovell, Mrs. Edith V. A. Murphey, and the host and hostess were those who enjoyed the happy day.

Mrs. Nellie Haeu, who has been away on a long visit to friends and relatives, is at home again. We have missed her and are glad to have her back. John Haeu and his wife were recently slightly injured in an automobile accident. The opposing party was less lucky—he sustained a fractured kneecap. This accident did not happen here.

Killed Varmint.

Raymond Hill with his pack of varmint dogs last week killed a large male panther on Grindstone creek.

Pioneer Sawmill Man Was Buried

Fred Steele, 77, died at his home in Willits early Thursday morning, following a long illness. Mr. Steele had been bedridden most of the time in the past few months, his troubles being due to the infirmities of old age. Frederick William Steele was born in Michigan, January 30, 1859, and had followed sawmill business practically all his life. He worked in every department from chopper to superintendent of mills and was one of the best informed men on this subject in this part of the state. Mr. Steele's funeral, under Masonic Lodge auspices, was held in Willits Sunday.

The Rain Helped In Bell Springs Area

Paul Grothe, of Bell Springs, reports it rained more on the mountain recently than in the valleys and there was enough rain to start new feed.

IN OLD HOME
(The Willits News)

County Clerk Harry M. Burke was a visitor here Saturday, coming to attend a meeting of Spanish War Veterans. While here he also had an opportunity to call on old friends, who were, as usual, glad to see his smiling face.

SOCIAL AND CLUB EVENTS

SPURR HOME WAS GIVEN REAL HOUSE-WARMING

Attorney and Mrs. Henry C. Spurr sat enjoying their fireside in their lovely new Jones street home Wednesday evening, anticipating a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mason, when lights from many cars shone in their living room and they heard a chorus of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," from 24 friends who had joined the Masons to surprise them in a housewarming. The heavy front door swung open in hearty welcome — no look through the grilled aperature being necessary to tell them friends had come.

A tour through the house, exclamations over the cheerful, electrically equipped kitchen with Chinese red ceiling, cream walls and red and green accents, tastefully designed by the hostess, a peek into the tree shaded patio and a return to the spacious living room, decorated in turquoise, apricot and rust, preceded cards and refreshments for which the guests had brought all the necessary supplies and equipment. Delicious sandwiches and a cake bearing a tiny house, a lucky horseshoe and an inscription of welcome, were served.

Joining in the merry-making at the home occupied by the Spurrs for just a month were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taft, Mr. and Mrs. Lilburn Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pearl, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brunner, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. George Kroetz, Dr. and Mrs. Newell Rea, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. William Dear, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hammond Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mason. On the hearth of the new home is a lovely fire set, token of the housewarming left by the guests.

Next Friday the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Walsh for a delightful Christmas party.

L. O. M. SOCIAL

This evening the Loyal Order of Moose will hold a basket social and dance at Steiert hall, the party starting at 8 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded and it is anticipated those attending will enjoy a delightful evening. Harold Shook, Dictator, is chairman of the affair.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

While Knights Templar were holding election of officers following a 6:30 dinner Thursday evening, their ladies completed the bridge tournament which they have been carrying on this season. Final high scores went to Mrs. Hale McCowen for contract and to Mrs. B. L. Cleland for auction. A similar series of games will be started after the first of the year.

SENIORS GIVE FINE PRODUCTION AT HIGH SCHOOL

Billed as "Growing Pains," a Comedy of Adolescence," the three-act play given by seniors at the high school Friday night brought peals of mirthful appreciation and applause from school mates, teachers, parents and spectators of all ages who packed the auditorium.

It concerned a modern family in which a conscientious father and mother became nearly distracted in the patient study and humoring of the kaleidoscopic moods of their 16-year-old son, George, and their younger daughter, Terry. Professor and Mrs. McIntire see their daughter fluctuating between a youngster on skates and a beautiful young lady in evening dress and high heels aping the "system" of Prudence, the vamp who has all the boys agog, and their son George with rapidly changing interests in everything from prize essays, shotguns, baseball, a stripped car and clothes consciousness, to Prudence. An evening party for the younger set at the McIntire home is full of amusing episodes in which the entire cast appears. Finally Terry finds Brian, whose admiration she has wanted, likes her best when she is natural, and George is easily able to get over what he thought an irreparably broken heart when a new girl moves into the neighborhood.

This was the cast of characters: George McIntire, Bill Williams; Terry McIntire, Lorraine Mankins; Mrs. McIntire, Barbara Moulton; Professor McIntire, Russell Rohlff; Sophie, Sydney Sanford; Mrs. Patterson, Ruth Lawrence, who took the part on a day's notice when Connie Grothe was unable to fill the role due to illness; Elsie Patterson, Margaret Somerset; Traffic Officer, Fred Montgomery; Dutch, Alex Thomas Jr.; Brian, James Ford; Omar, Carl Lang; Hal, Alfred Parker; Pete, George Parducci; Prudence, June Ransdell; Potty, Julia Broggi; Jane, Marian Hansen; Miriam, Marjorie Messick; Vivian, Louise Byrnes; Dot, Dorothy Dennen; extra boys and girls, Harold Ashton, Dick Davis, Veltha Davis, Isabel Wimberly.

Work was indispensible as carried on by the production cast of: Promptress, Marguerite Le Bastle; Advertising, Lloyd Wallett; Tickets, Delores Scholl, Roy Szanick; Setting, Richard Tweedy, Meno Onomiya, Wayne Shupe, Edward Walsh, Donald Weselsky, Andy Grothe; Lighting, Anthony Leno; Properties, Arthur Wehrman, Yasuo Wada; Seating, Virginia Ford, Virginia Dal Pozzo, Cleo Wade, Betty Daut, Adelina Graziano, Ruth Lawrence, Olive Ford, Kathleen Houdeshell, Helen Roberts, Janette Pittman.

Characterization of each part was exceedingly clever, and to the coach, Paul Beaufort, goes much credit. The orchestra under direction of Robert Sharp gave various musical selections in splendid style which was a great addition to the evening's entertainment. Attractive furnishings from Cleland's and an RCA radio from Bernhard's were important adjuncts to the production.

QUIETLY WED SATURDAY

Ruby Hazel MacDonald and George Arnold Kennedy were quietly married Saturday morning with Justice of the Peace Will Van Dyke pronouncing them man and wife. The attractive bride wore tailored grey with black and white accessories. She is the daughter of Mr. and and Mrs. J. C. Christy, residents of Ukiah for many years, where she has a circle of close friends gained during her days as a student in the local schools and widened by the friendship of many older members of the community. Mr. Kennedy is the son of Mrs. Alice Kennedy of Portland, Oregon. He has been employed here several years and the young couple will remain in Ukiah following marriage.

SOUTH FOR HOLIDAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tolman will leave Saturday to enjoy the holidays with their son, Guy Steele, and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Lawrence and two grandchildren at La Habre. The Tolmans expect to be gone for one or two months and will stop in Hollister for a few days on their way south.

GARDENS AND NOEL TOPICS FOR KOSMOS CLUB

Very interesting was the garden program of the Kosmos Club Thursday afternoon, for, though this is not a season of bursting bloom, dry bouquets can be fascinating decoration in artistic and colorful arrangements as described by Mrs. Maud Elledge, who had many garden products with which to illustrate. Mrs. Harriet White told of the origin of our Christmas tree and legends and traditions connected with our floral decorations, such as poinsettias and English Holly, incidentally exhibiting seven varieties of Holly. The choral section sang Christmas carols and members gathered about a prettily decorated tree, each receiving gifts for use in gardening. The prize of pepper berries in a vase was drawn by Mrs. Sarah F. Ryder. Refreshments—English plum pudding, coffee and homemade candies—were in keeping with the Christmas spirit.

Mrs. Emily Miller presided during the meeting, as Mrs. Yamond York was unable to fill her regular post.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Saturday afternoon Joan Hovey celebrated her thirteenth birthday at a lovely party at the Clara avenue home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hovey. Those invited to participate in the jolly games and to share the delicious birthday cake and other refreshments which followed were Barbara Allen, Raylene Pearl, Mary Buhn, Virginia Morris, Yvonne Bidwell, Amy Melander, Helen Gibson, Anne Howell, Buna Carpenter, Gladys Allen and Mary Ellen Hovey.

MET AT NEW CLUBHOUSE

Campfire Girls held their third meeting of the year last Thursday enjoying the new community clubhouse for their gathering for the first time. Mrs. Norman Buhn acted as leader during the afternoon, the girls being divided into three teams for competitive games. (Talahi, meaning "In the Oaks") is the significant title of the local group. Present were Joan Hovey, Amy Melander, Mary Dale Folsom, Mary Dean Lindsley, Buna Carpenter, Barbara Conley, Betty Jean Dunham, Catherine Thomas.

FETED AT SHOWER

Members of Kewanna Council, Degree of Pocahontas, and a few friends gathered in honor of Mrs. Mary Freeman Wednesday afternoon when they held a stork shower at the home of Mrs. Joseph Figone in Talmage. Cards were played with prizes going to Mrs. Minnie Sweney, Mrs. Ann Miller and to the guest of honor, who also received several lovely gifts. Decorations were dainty streamers of pink and blue crepe paper bearing images of the long legged bird, and holly berries in artistic arrangement. Refreshments were served Miss Mary Baccaglia, Mrs. Kate Nicholson, Mrs. Ina Branson and her house guest, Mrs. Ruth Rice of San Diego,, Mrs. Mary Gibson, Mrs. Elizabeth Wegner, Mrs. Leo Runkel, Mrs. Mary Manning, Miss Louise Baccaglio and Miss Agnes Figone.

VISITORS PLAN REUNION

Tuesday J. D. Branson left for the south with a number of relatives who had been guests at his home several days, having come unexpectedly to renew family friendships and to plan for a reunion at the home of Mr. Branson's brother, C. A. Branson, of Glendale, at Christmas time. Mr. Branson will remain at the Glendale home where Mrs. Branson, his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Boulware, baby granddaughter, Betty Lou Boulware, and sons, Frank and Harley, will go for the Holiday in company with a sister, Mrs. Herbert Rice, of San Diego, who was a member of the recent gathering at the Ukiah home where she is remaining in the meantime. Others to whom the J. D. Bransons were hosts last week were Mr. Branson's foster-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams of Taos, New Mexico, and their friend, Thomas Noble, of Wichita, Kansas; his sister-in-law, Mrs. C. A. Branson, her sons Charles and Keith; and a sister, Mrs. Donald Noack, of Uplands.

Miss Frances Giddings of Fort Bragg, coast school supervisor, visited Ukiah schools Thursday and Friday.

PARTY FOR LEGION AND AUXILARY KIDDIES TONIGHT

This evening, a huge tree at Veterans Memorial Building will be gay with many lights at the annual Christmas party given by Lewis White Post, American Legion, and the Auxiliary, when it is anticipated everyone eligible to these organizations and their families will attend. An impromptu program is being arranged in which all the children are urged to take part. Accompaniment will be provided for each child coming prepared with a dance, recitation or song. Parents of interested children may get in touch with Mrs. Ardis Conley who is in charge of the evening's entertainment.

Among numbers planned are a two-act play entitled, "The Homesick Ties," with a cast drawn from the Junior Auxiliary and Sons of the Legion, a song by three-year-old Nancy Harp, and a dance by Eleanor Conley, also three. Bags of fruits and nuts will be passed out to each child and refreshments will be provided for their parents also. Adjutant V. H. Breton has extended a cordial invitation to those affiliated with the organizations to bring their families.

WILL RETURN TO UKIAH FOR WEDDING

January 8th, 1937, is the date set by Miss Frances Aileen Houdeshell for a lovely ceremony at the local Baptist church when she will become the bride of John Boyd Brown, of Oakland. Rev. Claude F. Mosher will read the wedding service. Miss Kathleen Houdeshell will be her sister's maid of honor, and another sister, Miss Helen Houdeshell, Mrs. Jack Coke and Miss Evalyn Zeek, of Calistoga, will be her other attendants. Phillip Brown, brother of the bridegroom-elect, will be best man.

Miss Houdeshell is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Houdeshell. She is a student at The Samuel Merritt Hospital where she will receive her graduate certificate in January. Mr. Brown is a graduate of Polytechnic College, Oakland, and both young people are alumni of Ukiah high school and have many friends in the community.

NEW RESIDENTS

The Gibson home at Perkins and Pine streets is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Bray. Being transferred to this territory by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, by whom he is employed in the road crew, Mr. Bray will make his home here in view of the extensive road work planned for the district.

Mrs. Mary Orr drove to Stockton with Mr. and Mrs. William Eagle with whom she will pass the midwinter months as she did last year. Mrs. Eagle was formerly Vera Banks, and is a granddaughter of Mrs. Orr with whom she formerly lived for many years in Ukiah. A trip across the new Bay bridge has been planned for the visitor.

TREE PRIZES TO BE GIVEN BY COMMITTEE

Already one sees a gayly dressed tree shining merrily from some window or brightening a lawn as Ukiahans enter into what promises to be the most enthusiastic participation of the lighted Christmas tree movement we have yet known. As Yuletide approaches, lights galore will shine so merrily from tree after tree among our residences that even a Scrooge would be heartened on the coldest of winter nights could he but catch a glimpse of them.

The very fun of having one's own home reflect the holiday happiness within by greeting passersby with twinkling trees is reward enough in itself. However, honorary recognition is to be given for those having the most beautiful decoration of the following types: First, for the loveliest lighted outdoor tree; second, for the home expressing the gayest atmosphere by means of a hospitable doorway, decorated porches, or windows from which radiate the gayety within; and third, for the residential block outstanding in its entirety for effective illumination. On the evening of December 26 a committee comprised of Mrs. Guy Redwine, Mrs. W. K. Jamison, Mrs. Charles Kasch, Edgar Dutton and Burnam Heryford will act as judges in making the awards.

RARE TREAT PUT ON BY HOPLANDERS

The Ukiah Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring a Christmas program to be given Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Grammar school auditorium as a benefit for the local organization.

The production consists of an operetta in three acts entitled "Ye Old English Christmas," by Hopland grammar school players, with the Hopland school band giving selections before, during and after the performance. The band, under direction of Prof. Skelly, will be pleasantly remembered by those attending the Boonville Fair and the Citrus Fair at Cloverdale. The operetta is gayly costumed and presents a colorful scene as it depicts an old English Christmas. The curtain goes up on a scene of Christmas preparation at a squires tenantry house, the atmosphere being sad, however, as the squire allowed no gayety since the loss of his son four years earlier. Upon overhearing the children, the squire allows them to make merry, but will have no part in the festivities himself. Christmas day a servant accused of stealing the squire's son returns, proves his innocence, the child comes home, and a lively celebration is enjoyed by everyone. Cast in leading roles are Gay Irish, Arthur Hopper, Donald Pardee, Lester Ellis, Liburn Harp, and Richard Metzler, who receive excellent support by minor roles and a chorus of forty.

Members of Ukiah P.-T.A. are urging people of this community to give them strong backing in this benefit program. The P.-T.A. organization is a benefit organization and requires funds if it is to operate with any degree of efficiency. Student tickets are 10 cents and adult tickets 25 cents.

MUMPS CLOSES VALLEY SCHOOL

Epidemic Hits Con Creek District In Full Force

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, Dec. 15.—The Anderson Valley Unity Club will have Guest Night Saturday, January 2, when each member will be allowed to invite three guests. The evening will be passed at cards and old-fashioned dancing, a few musical numbers will also be included in the evening's program and, of course, refreshments will be served by the ladies. The club social committee has charge of the affair, which will be held in Farrer's hall, and every effort is being made to provide a pleasant evening for members and their guests.

Delayed By Strike.

Scaffolds are up and work of painting the interior of the Boonville Methodist church was to have commenced last week, but due to the strike the paint failed to arrive, much to the disappointment of pastor and members who had hoped to have the work completed before Christmas.

Little Girl Better.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fenton was seriously ill with bronchial pneumonia last week but has passed the crisis and is improving rapidly.

Glenn E. McAbee and Maurice L. Farrer motored to Santa Rosa Sunday.

Mumps Closes School.

Three cases of mumps developed in the Burt Paul family during the past week, all the cases so far have been in the Con Creek school district which has closed for mid-winter vacation to prevent the disease from spreading.

Mrs. D. P. Lawson was quite ill the latter part of the week but is able to be about again.

Stockmen Anxious.

Ranchers here have been compelled to feed their stock for several weeks already and are anxiously awaiting a rain and are hoping for enough warm weather and rain to start the feed before it is too late.

The Signal school, Mrs. John Slotte teacher, closed Friday with a Christmas tree and program that was greatly enjoyed by the many parents and friends who attended. Mrs. Slotte and the pupils were generously remembered with Christmas presents.

George A. Farrer and mother, Mrs. J. C. Lemon were business visitors in Santa Rosa Thursday.

Did Very Well.

The Red Cross Roll Call has been completed here with a larger membership than last year in this district, which covers Anderson Valley high school district and includes Navarro, Signal, Philo, Boonville, Yorkville and Ornbaun. The local Red Cross committee appreciates the hearty co-operation of the workers who covered this valley for the Roll Call.

BIRTHDAY FETE

A delicious dinner served to guests at six card tables decorated with English holly, followed by an evening of bridge, was the lovely birthday party arranged by Mrs. J. R. Thomas for her husband Saturday. High score awards went to Attorney and Mrs. Norman Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Orval Tadlock.

I SEE BY THE PAPERS

A school for Santas looks too much like mass production of something that needs to develop individually and spontaneously. When nothing is left to a child's own imagination the tradition becomes forced and meaningless.—

Violation of the sanitary code is given by Mexican authorities as the reason for closing Dr. John R. Brinkley's radio station XEPN, at Piedras Negras, Coahuila. That excuse is probably a subterfuge, but whatever the real reason, radio listeners are to be congratulated. The fortune tellers and other forms of quackery induged in by this station have been offensive. On top of this, with 100,000-watt power, XEPN made it almost impossible to get any station of moderate power in a vast region.

Flim-flamming people over the air is just as effective as the old time method of hot air.—

* NO BLAME FOR TRAGEDY *

steadily employed and the family was in very poor circumstances. It is stated the family reached home at an early morning hour and had started a fire in the heating stove but just what was the exact cause of the blaze will probably never be known.

Making Investigation.

Probation Officer A. D. Scott has placed the children of Mr. and Mrs. Mahan in the juvenile home and inquiry regarding all the circumstances of the tragedy is being made by the probation officer. There is heard considerable unfavorable comment over the fact Mrs. Mahan left her infant in charge of her son, about 12 years of age, while she absented herself for a long period on the night of the cremation of her infant.

A Veritable Firetrap.

The cabin was located about one-fourth mile from Irmulco railroad station and not far from the old schoolhouse. After the shingles on the roof rotted, it was covered with paper roofing, which, with the windows and doors closed, gave it almost a hermetically sealed status.

Knew Of Menace.

The mother admits the stove was full of paper when she started the fire and that the stovepipe was not properly protected where it went through the roof. This cabin had escaped the two destructive fires that swept Irmulco during the past few years, yet it turned out to be the worst hazard of them all.

In New Homes.

James L. Roberson, grandfather of "Jimmie" Mahan, has taken the boy to his Sonoma county home; the second little boy in the Mahan family has been entrusted to the Borges family of Potter Valley, and the smallest member of the family has been left, for the time being, at the detention home.

FORD

advances into 1937 with the

LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS

and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines. 85 horsepower for maximum performance. 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

The 60-horsepower V-8 engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success. Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine, available in five body types, is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase — to the same advanced design — with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." And it delivers V-8 smoothness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937.

PAUL DAJAS GOT RESULTS

Last week Paul Dajas had an apartment he wished to rent and, of course, advertised in The Republican Press. At once he obtained a suitable tenant. What happened to Paul Dajas occurs in cases of all who use Press Wantads. This is so because almost everyone hereabouts reads The Republican Press—The newspaper that carries the classified ads is the paper the people read.

Peter Frey Again Clerks At Palace

Peter Frey returned to The Palace Hotel yesterday in the capacity of assistant manager. Mr. Frey left the hotel in 1929 and since that time has been on the staffs of the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, San Francisco, and The Hotel Vance, Eureka. He is taking the place of Earl Dean who will operate Porter's Cigar Store, next to the hotel, which he recently purchased.

Mrs. Fred Rawles and son Malcolm were in town Saturday from Boonville, doing Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Wildia F. Brazill and son, of Boonville, were Ukiah visitors Saturday.

ALL DRIVERS ARE INVITED

Feature At Theatre Tells An Interesting Story

Do you consider yourself a safe driver?

The answer, of course, is yes. Every driver is certain he is perfectly trustworthy at the wheel.

How About It?

But still there are accidents so if you think you drive safely, ask yourself a few of these questions. Do you—

Day dream at the wheel?

Pass other cars at high speed without being sure you can get back into the right lane before you reach the curve ahead?

Go down steep hills without using second gear?

Assume that all the children are safe in their classrooms when you pass a school?

Go and See It.

These questions and a number of others are asked—and answered—in a special reel of film "We Drivers" which the State Theatre will present tonight and Thursday, December 16-17.

Reason For It.

"We Drivers" was filmed in the interest of safe and sane driving to help prevent the unnecessary loss of life and damage of property, however, it is not merely a preachment on safety, but a lively and entertaining reel, partly in technicolor, using animated cartoons and combinations of cartoon and living figures to illustrate its point.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R .O'Brien went to Sacramento Friday and on Saturday Mr. O'Brien attended a meeting of the State Prison Board at Represa.

C. M. Mannon, of The Savings Bank of Mendocino County, was looking after banking matters at Willits the first of the week.

Monday Fire Burns Geo. Havens' Home

Monday morning the old home of George Havens on Mason street was so far destroyed by flames when the fire department was summoned it is practically a total loss. Mr. Havens, the only occupant, had finished breakfast and gone outside when a neighbor noticed the flames and turned in the alarm. Due to the advanced stage of the conflagration it was impossible to determine how it started, although it is thought a faulty flue was the probable cause.

Elk Store Robbed —Alarms Worked

The candy store of G. Vannetta, of Elk, was entered by an after-midnight prowler Friday. A skit entitled "Jerry Drops In," a piano duet by Olive May and Phyllis Cromwell, and a piano solo by Hazel Williams.
